

Question 1:

Company A incorporated in England and Wales, hereby requests a clarification as to the necessary documents to confirm the applicant's qualifications.

On 31 March 2021, the business, rights, and obligations of Company A will be transferred to Company B under a going concern transfer agreement that establishes Company B as a continuing company to Company A. Please clarify whether the provision of a copy of the going concern transfer agreement and an explanatory note on the laws of England and Wales would suffice as proof of the legal successor's compliance with financial stability requirements, experience executing agreements on communication services for energy sector enterprises operating in the MENA market, and reputation as a bona fide contractor in the Russian nuclear industry.

Answer 1:

The provision of the mentioned copy of the going concern transfer agreement and an explanatory note on the laws of England and Wales would suffice as proof of the legal successor's compliance with financial stability requirements, experience executing agreements on communication services for energy sector enterprises operating in the MENA market, and reputation as a bona fide contractor in the Russian nuclear industry.

Question 2:

According to paragraph 3 Criteria and Methodology For Evaluating The Procurement Bids of the competition's documentation, the projects of information services for energy companies only are accepted for evaluation.

We ask to amend the documentation in terms of evaluation criteria in order to accept the evaluation of contracts in the field of information services in UAE and/or Saudi Arabia and/or Jordan not only for energy companies, but also for companies in other industries such as power and/or machine building and/or extractive industries, as the area of interest of the customer is not limited to the energy sector.

Answer 2:

The Customer is not planning to change the procurement documentation in terms of evaluation criteria.

To confirm the compliance with the evaluation criteria, the procurement participant must provide the documents listed in Paragraph 3 in Volume 1 Part 1 of the procurement documentation.
